DISTRICT IX CONFERENCE.....TUNKHANNOCK HIGH SCHOOL.....MAY 7,2010

“The Hero Is Inside of You” is the theme of this year’s District IX Conference hosted by Tunkhannock Middle and High School Student Councils at Tunkhannock High School in Wyoming County. Kelley Healey, District IX President, indicates committees of both their councils have been working hard to bring us another great conference. Potential vendors have been contacted, workshop previews have been scheduled for next week and the serious fundraising is underway by Tunkhannock council members in their quest to stage an outstanding conference that will help all of us to not only recognize the heroes among us, but will help us better develop the potential hero inside of all of us. Kelley reports that 28 schools have already sent back rsvp forms to request further information on their conference. If your council has NOT YET rsvp’d , please do so immediately to Mrs Staci Wiernusz, high school adviser at staci.wiernusz@tasd.net or fax to 570-836-4719. Conference registration packets will be mailed out in early to mid March to all schools that have sent in an rsvp. ALSO, remind your students of the need for a new District IX Board to be elected for the next school year. Applications will be received until April 20th for the positions of President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer of District IX, in addition to region reps from each of our seven counties. NOTE: The President and Treasurer of District IX are students from the upcoming District IX Conference Host School. Presently we are looking for a council to host the next district conference which would be in the spring of 2011. Questions should be forwarded to edrenewright@yahoo.com, District IX Director.

SUMMER LEADERSHIP WORKSHOP BROCHURES ARE MAILED

Advisers please note the PASC Summer Leadership Workshop brochures have been mailed to all member schools. Improve your council, your student leaders and your own life by sending some of your members to a summer workshop. It is the best money investment you can make for motivating and strengthening leaders and their skill development. Didn’t receive a brochure? Contact Edrene Wright or H. James Finnemeyer, PASC Executive Director very soon.

YES, the next annual PASC State Conference is being held here in Old Forge and Scranton, Pa. this fall. Two keynote speakers have been contracted, four hotels have been booked for all of you, thirteen committees have been meeting at least bi-weekly to assemble the details for another outstanding 2 ½ day conference here in northeastern Pennsylvania. A variety of activities have been planned, a Friday evening banquet at a beautiful banquet hall, in addition outstanding workshops selected by our own National Council of Excellence school, Pocono Mountain West's Council, are among the many features of this conference that await you. You will begin the conference on the campus of the University of Scranton and on Friday mid morning travel to the pizza capital for a wonderful lunch and attend workshops at the Old Forge Education Complex. Saturday's events will conclude back at the University of Scranton Campus, home of the Royals. Jillian Roeske, PASC State President, Ryan Rinaldi and Carleen Troup, conference co-chairs have been meeting for months, it seems, to coordinate all the committees and their work to finalize the details for this huge event. Currently they are anxiously awaiting the arrival of the PASC State Executive Board the first weekend in March to Scranton. After all approvals are met you will see many more details of the conference on the PASC website. In addition, you will soon be receiving workshop application information and conference packets for the State Conference. Because our conference is early, October, it is imperative that you begin plans to attend this conference now, before you leave for the summer. Our hotels have EARLY September reservation dates as does our conference so please be alert to the mail. Should you feel you did not receive any conference information, please be sure to contact either myself, Edrene Wright, at 570-222-3729 or e-mail edrenewright@yahoo.com.
